AN IMPORTANT TWO SESSIONS SALE

Of Gems, Jewelry, Antiques, China, Coins, Medals, Indian Relics, Paper Money, Curios, Etc.—March 6th, 1911.

For wide variety of the offerings the present sale, booked for two sessions, to be held on Monday, March 6th, next, has not been preceded by any of greater interest. This sale contains many fine genuine Cut and Polished Gem Stones, not a few of them mounted. There are odd pieces, cameos, intaglios and miniatures large and small. The stones alone cover several hundred lots of a wide variety of colors, shapes and sizes. When we state positively that stones may be obtained in some cases at these sales at as low as one twentieth of the ordinary prices, and in very many cases at one-quarter the retail prices, no further inducement to prospective buyers seems necessary. Dealers in gems and jewelry may be justified in asking handsome profits, because they are dealing in luxuries, but as the public will have luxuries, the buying of those luxuries at a fraction of original cost of their cutting, is worthy of consideration. This is not old stock, but in most cases fresh cut material, received only a few months since from Europe.

This sale contains the finest lot of original Babylonian baked clay cylinders yet offered. None of these dates later than 2500 B. C., and their curious cuneiform inscriptions, accounts, etc. are clear to authorities on Babylonian lore. The Egyptian Scarabs, Ushebtis, Amulets, etc. are all authentic and guaranteed, while there is a variety of Greek and Roman Glass, and other objects, including many Coins in silver and bronze. The Ushebti statuettes, over 3500 years old, have a wonderful blue glaze, (one of the Egyptian lost arts), and make suitable decorative or cabinet pieces.

Pottery, Indian Buck-skin, Obsidian and Stone Relics, Antique Moorish Pistols, etc. will interest collectors of those objects.

The sale is rich in mediaeval and modern European Coins, Medals and Tokens, and fine American Gold, Silver and Copper. A feature which should not be lost sight of is the unusual collection of Colonial, Continental and later American paper money, including old and rare notes of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut, North and South Carolina, Virginia, etc. not offered before. Give the catalogue a careful reading, it will repay you. There are no less than 1300 lots, all to be sold in one day.

Exhibition of the Lots.

The lots of the sale will be exhibited at the Sales Rooms, 20 East 20th Street, New York, on Saturday, March 4th, and on the following Monday up until the time of sale.

Order of Sale.

At 2:00 P. M. Lots Nos. 1 to 700 inclusive will be sold.

At 8:00 P. M. Lots Nos. 701 to the end of catalogue will be sold.
